

I support the more stringent NJ DO NOT CALL List. As a parent with a young family, our evenings are much more peaceful without the interruption of telemarketers. It has been especially good since there the children are no longer distracted by useless calls while they are doing their homework.